1. How will the family accounts of the Respect in Sport Parent Program link to the HCR?

When registering for the Respect in Sport Parent Program, the parent must associate a child or children to their profile (Child Management) where an association must be selected. After a parent is certified, and assuming he/she has associated a child(ren) to their profile, the HCR record of the child is updated under Clinics and Qualifications, including the Respect in Sport certificate number. Please make sure ALL your children are linked! Then click on No Further Children to Add when done.

2. What are the payment options for the RIS for Parents online course?

The payment is done through PayPal, by credit or debit card.

APHA Tryouts

Welcome back to another year of hockey and great fun! As each season starts with registration it quickly follows with tryouts. The hockey directors from the six Assiniboine Park Hockey Association (APHA) community clubs have reviewed the tryouts from last year and are looking to make improvements again this year.

Logistics of the tryouts will be altered from last year to allow adherence to phase 2 of Hockey Manitoba's and Mb Public Health's RTP. The APHA has again hired a independent group to perform the evaluations instead of volunteers. By hiring a group of dedicated and knowledgeable hockey staff, the APHA is hoping to provide consistent and fair player evaluations.

Team Formation and Amalgamation

When you register your son or daughter for hockey you do so as part of the APHA. While you may register under your home community centre, your player is playing in a regional program. After registration, but prior to tryouts, the APHA team formation subcommittee meets to determine how many teams there will be at each age group. This decision is based on rules set by Hockey Winnipeg and by the number of children registered at each age group across the entire APHA.

Hockey Winnipeg rules require all players to compete in an association-wide tryout process at each age group. This means that all players will be pooled together from all community centres to create teams.

As you prepare your hockey players for another season, the hockey directors wish everyone the best and hope you have a positive experience during tryouts.
